1. Contribution Guidelines

Thank you for considering to contribute to this project. These guidelines will help you get going with development and outline the most important rules to follow when submitting pull requests for this project.

1.1. Submitting Changes

To get changes merged, create a pull request. Here are a few things to pay attention to when doing so:

1.1.1. Commit Messages

The summary of a commit should be concise and worded in an imperative mood. This article should clear things up: How to Write a Git Commit Message

1.1.2. Code Style

Make sure your code follows PEP-8 and keeps things consistent with the rest of the code.
